Dear Sir or Madam:

It has been my pleasure to supervise Kira Tilcock in her 4-month co-op term with my team serving the eSafety & Quality portfolio in MEDITECH Direct Care Support department in Fraser Health (FH). During this time, Kira has continuously demonstrated an outstanding capacity to individually or collaboratively manage a number of projects from the beginning to the end, to apply business process reengineering and usability engineering concepts and methods in a variety of clinical and corporate Health Care Information Technologies (HIT) projects, and to assist in the stabilization, optimization, sustainment, and maintenance of the advanced clinical systems.

Kira is a intelligent, diligent, hardworking, and reliable individual. She is well liked and viewed as a resource within the eSafety team and the MEDITECH Direct Care Support team. She not only does what was required of her, but also seeks out opportunities to expand her knowledge. Kira has always taken her role seriously and is passionate about the results. She takes initiative to go beyond the expected parameters of the assigned work and works hard to complete them. She is consciously proactive at getting full involvement of all other team members to derive the best results possible. I have been consistently impressed with Kira's attitude, productivity, and quality of work during the time that she was with us.

Kira functions with a high degree of independence. Each time I meet with Kira she comes prepared with a clear summary of what she has been working on, presents outlines of manuscripts or upcoming tasks, and informs me about his work. More so than any student I have supervised previously, Kira keeps herself on a trajectory towards completion. I have never had to motivate her effort. While she functions independently, Kira works very well in teams and has industriously completed all tasks that other team members and I have asked of her.

I would definitely recommend Kira because she is intelligent, hardworking, and mature. I have no doubt that Kira will prove an asset to any organization. Please do not hesitate to contact me for any further information.
